

Regional meeting on Gender Statistics in Climate Change and Disaster Risk Reduction

Version of 18 April 2019

22 April 2019, United Nations Conference Center, Meeting room H, Bangkok

The specific objectives include:

- ✚ Discussion on national policymaking needs and requirements for climate change and disaster risk reduction statistics from a gender equality perspective in the context of achieving the international commitments;
- ✚ Discussion on the role(s) of relevant government institutions in the production and use of disaster risk reduction statistics from a gender equality perspective;
- ✚ Sharing lessons learnt from the activities to enhance gender, climate change and disaster risk reduction statistics.

Provisional Agenda

Time	Activity	Presenter
8:30–9:00	Registration and networking
9:00–9:30	Welcoming remarks Ongoing regional programmes on gender statistics Organisation of work	Sara Valero, UN Women Inkar Kadyrzhanova, Daniel Clarke, UN ESCAP
9:30–10:00	Producing disasters statistics from a gender perspective	Sharita Serrao, UN ESCAP
10:00–10:30	Challenges and solutions in monitoring progress towards achieving international commitments: production and use of gender-related statistics	Jessica Gardner, UN Women Consultant
10:30–11:00	BREAK
11:00–11:30	Measuring gender and climate change nexus	Gillian Campbell (via webex), UN Environment
11:30–12:00	Developing gender-sensitive climate change and disaster statistics <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Cambodia – National process to assess priorities on gender and disaster risk reduction data production</li> <li>• Vanuatu – Producing gender statistics on climate impacts</li> <li>• ADPC – Best national practices in Asia Pacific on DRR data production from a gender perspective</li> </ul>	Sereyroth Lim, UN Women Cambodia Vanuatu  Hilde Jakobsen, ADPC
12:00–12:45	Group discussion on key thematic areas relevant across the region to measure DRR and climate change from a gender equality perspective
12:45–13:45	LUNCH
13:45–14:00	Data and policy priorities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Vietnam – Identifying good gender-sensitive indicators</li> </ul>	Tran Thi Thuy Anh, UN

14:00–14:45	Data and policy priorities (continued) Group work: Identify key priority indicators on DRR and Climate change from a gender perspective, in line with key thematic areas <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Discussion based on thematic areas identified in the morning session</li> <li>• Informed by homework on priority indicators on gender and climate change or gender and DRR</li> </ul> Prioritization exercise around a list of indicators and identification of top priority indicators
14:45–15:30	Data flows and exchanges (15 min each) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Indonesia – Lessons and challenges pertaining to exchanging disaster data</li> <li>• UNISDR – Challenges in reporting data for indicators on disasters and climate change from a gender perspective</li> <li>• Q&amp;A</li> </ul>	Indonesia Timothy Wilcox, UNISDR
15:30–16:00	BREAK
16:00–17:30	Next steps – Priorities and activities to improve gender and climate change/disaster risk reduction statistics <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Summary of discussions/agreements so far</li> </ul>	Jessica Gardner, UN Women Consultant
17:30	Summary of the meeting discussions	